1982

1982 PANORAMA

Luverne High School

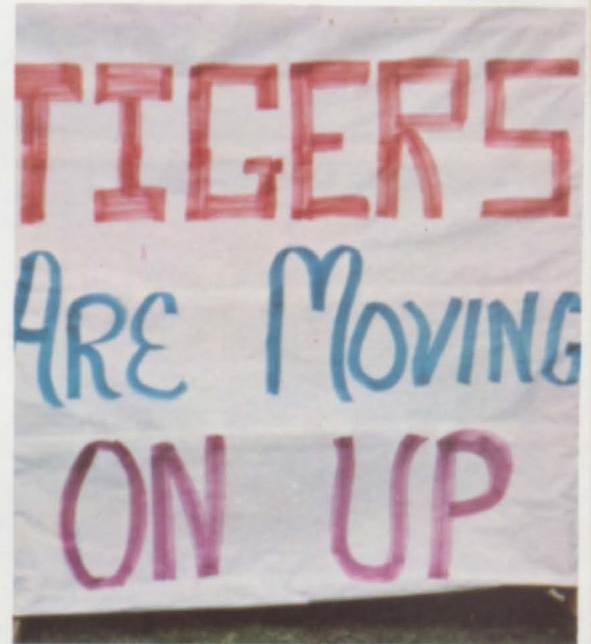

Luverne, Al. 36049

One could feel it in the air. This would be the year that everyone would CATCH THAT TIGER SPIRIT! At the first pep rally, the cheerleaders challenged the students with a spirit contest. This was the movement that created the wave of spirit throughout the school as well as the city. This wave of enthusiasm and spirit carried us all the way to the semifinals of the state AA football playoffs for the first time.

Impromptu pep rallies, halls covered with spirit signs, students dressed in ridiculous outfits, and the public's support indicated that we had caught that Tiger Spirit!

Writing on cars became a Fad . . . all around Luverne.

Anyone want to buy a booster badge?

Tigers on the road to Cottonwood.

The adult fans are ready in more ways than one—Trailways and Igloo.

WOW! What Dedication!!

The winning T.D. in Cottonwood.

The snow brought a quiet look to the grounds of LHS.

The Tigers get enthusiastic during battle cry.

Debra Tomberlin, Debbie Summerlin, and Paula Lambert are all smiles before their first pep rally as Seniors.

Jody Kilpatrick spends some time with his best friend.

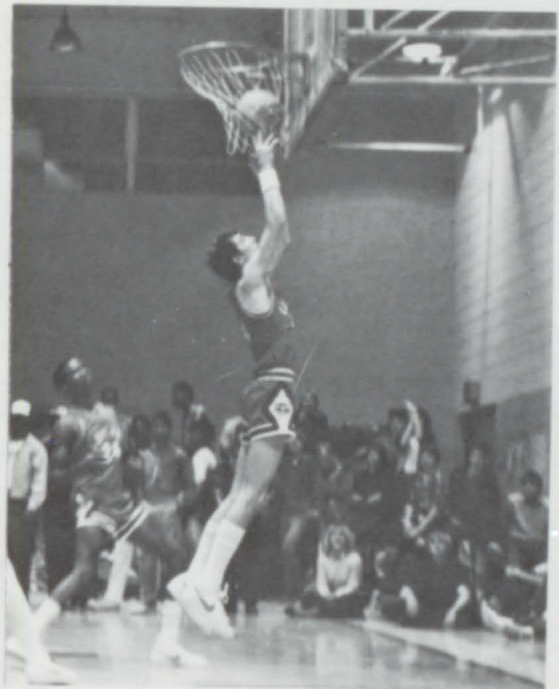

The younger fans got involved in cheering the Tigers on.

Judge Tom Harbin presents a resolution to Coach Glenn Daniel for being the 2A South Alabama Conference Coach of the Year.

Glenn Maloy drives in for a basket.

Floyd Wright expresses his thoughts about the game at a pep rally.

Never had so many been so caught up in a football season! Infants and old alike exhibited the Tiger Spirit. Fans arrived at 6:00 for a 7:30 game in order to get a seat; chartered buses filled with parents and supporters wearing badges which said such things as "I'm a Tiger fan" traveled to faraway places like Cottonwood and Dadeville; county schools sent banners and student representatives to show their support.

Mrs. Watson, is that a boxing match or a football game you're watching?

If eyes could kill . . .

We use Ivory Liquid!

It looks like Richelle is getting ready . . . but for what?

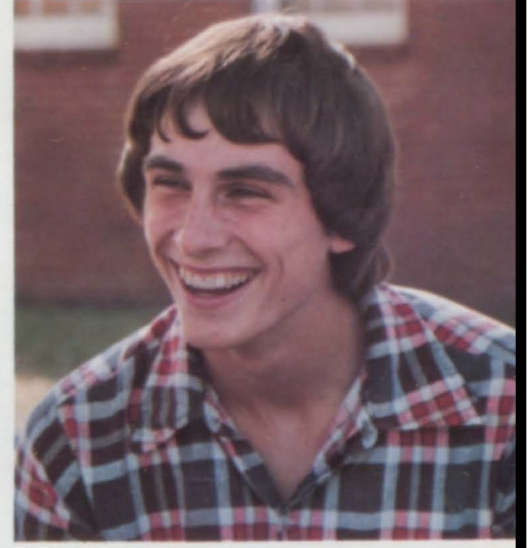

Ellis Daniels was always present at the pep rallies and games.

Little Dara Dickey cheered the Tigers on at the Thursday night pep rallies.

Our quarterback, Glenn Maloy, gets into the spirit of things by finally smiling.

Who spit Copenhagen in Glenn's face?

Concentration!!

Homecoming 1981

The day dawned dark, dismal, and dreary. Spirits were dragging because the weather forecast was for rain. The pep rally had to be moved to the auditorium rather than the football field because of the inclement weather. When the pep rally began, the atmosphere changed however, and enthusiasm reigned supreme.

By Kickoff, still no rain, and there was no dampening the spirit. No cars were allowed on the mushy field, but the homecoming queens, Misses Footballs and their court entered from the sidelines and walked to center field where they were recognized.

The crowning glory was the 35 to 6 victory over Georgiana. A dance in the gym following the game drew one of the biggest crowds ever, and not one student seemed to remember the gloomy way the day had begun.

Charles Smith, member of the honored class of 1972, recounts his days as a varsity football player and gets the student body fired up for a victory over Georgiana.

Homecoming Queen, Paula Lambert, takes a much needed Thursday night rest before Friday's hectic activities.

Varsity Cheerleader, Angel Johnson, makes preparations for the Homecoming Dance.

The Homecoming Court has mixed emotions about the big day ahead.

Pam Walton makes a star to show off the Homecoming Dance theme, "Tigers Are Above It All."

"Miss" Dickey, along with members of the alumni class, reminisce at the honoring tea.

Football players, Al Coggins and Chris Helms, think about the big game ahead as they enter the pep rally.

Cathy Carr dreams about the big day and night that awaits her.

The Tigers' fans show their enthusiasm.

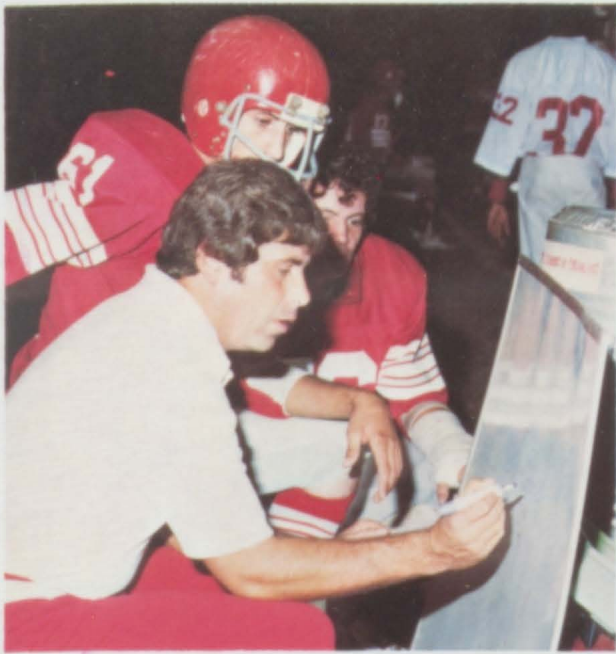

Renee is in a state of shock.

Queen Paula Lambert receives her flowers.

Chris Donaldson gets the beat down.

Chris Helms and Keith Hudson added some light by working the spotlight.

We get a different look of some of the beauties as they join together to dance.

The show couldn't have gone on without Kenny Washington, Tony Hodge, George Woodson, and Ellis Daniels, the backstage crew.

James Smith practices strutting his stuff for the big show.

Of SOLID GOLD

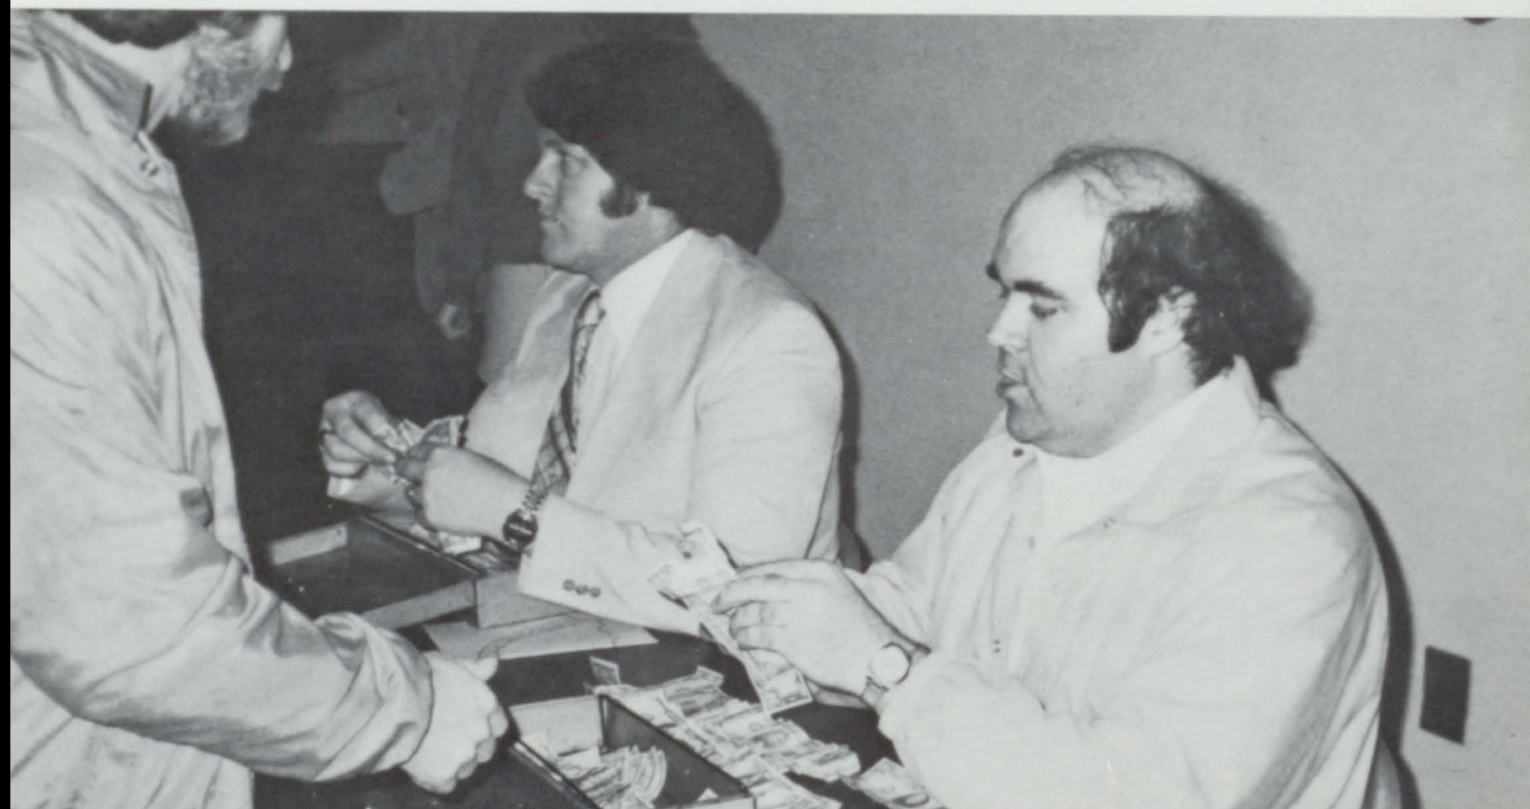

More Than Just Beauties

The Beauty Pageant was the social event of the season. Patrons lined up at 6:30 in order to get a good seat for the 7:30 show. Many who arrived by 7:30 had to be turned away for lack of adequate auditorium space.

For those who did get in, the show was well worth the effort, however. As always, the candidates were beautiful, but the talents of the other students were much in evidence as they danced, sang, did gymnastics, and even stripped. There was something for everybody during SOLID GOLD.

Mr. Windham Pittman and Becky Bray don't seem to be aware that the curtain has opened and they are performing for a capacity crowd.

Mr. Gary Spurlin and Mr. Hugh Sikes are two of the most important participants as they collect money prior to the show.

Marlene Stephens and Scott Sport are really dressed for the occasion and their jobs as co-hosts.

Walter Wingard and Donald Rogers are our dark red skins in their "Apache" dance.

We were all excited about Daphne's taking the top honor, especially Ronnie Cobb.

Noticeably, it was a shock to our top beauty.

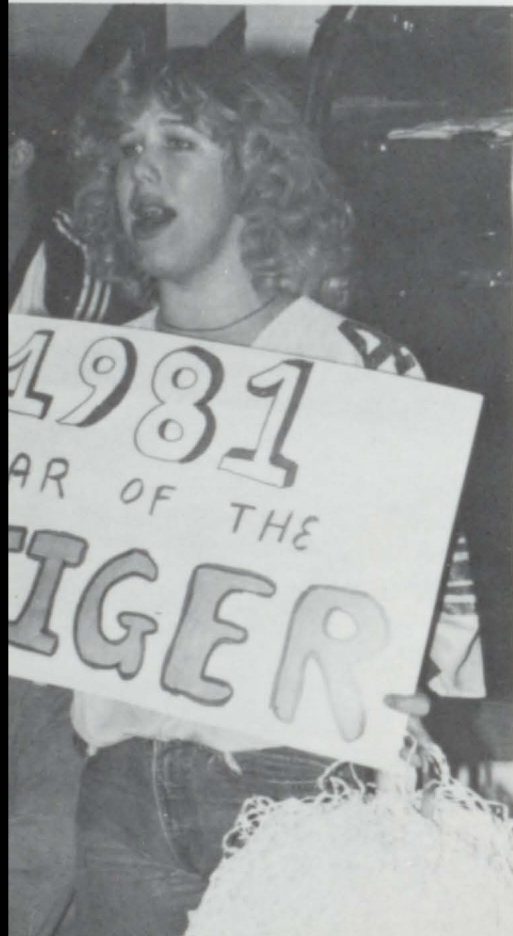

Spirit Contest

From the 1st pep rally, when Cathy Carr announced that the classes would compete in a spirit contest, students thought of unique ideas for posters, saved money for booster badges, caught rides to Thursday night pep rallies, and yelled their lungs out at pep rallies—anything to get those glorious spirit points for their class! All classes truly exhibited THAT TIGER SPIRIT, but the eighth graders collected the most points, and therefore were declared winners.

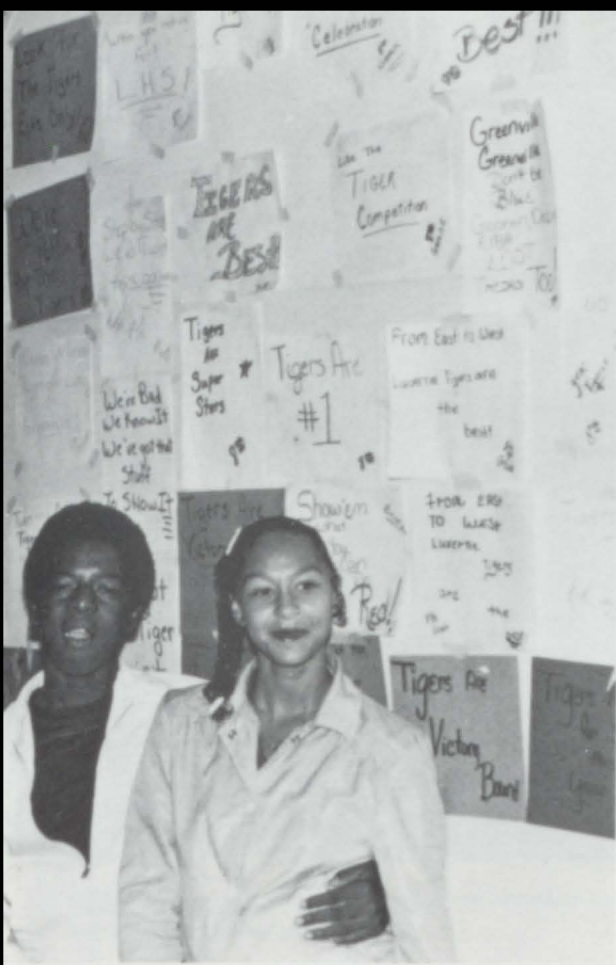

The eighth and ninth graders show off their many signs they made for extra points.

Nancy Sikes's sign is all about the Tigers.

Cathy Carr presents Becky Bray with the spirit ribbon for showing the most spirit at the game the week before.

Gum-chewing Sabrina McGinny shows her spirit at a Friday pep rally.

AFTER SCHOOL JOBS

For several of our students the day did not end when the 2:45 bell rang because they were gainfully employed after school at various places.

Danny Taylor rests for a moment between trips to the parking lot as a bag boy at Super Foods.

Joey Johnson and Ricky Kelly stock shelves at Rutledge Mercantile.

Sharron Smith smiles for the customers and the camera at her cash register at Value Mart.

Randy Claybrook cheerfully proves that two heads are better than one as he shows off a head of cabbage in his job in the Super Foods produce department

Cathy Carr looks lovingly at a piece of barbecued chicken before the Highland Home ballgame.

PIGGING OUT!

Eating has always been a favorite pastime for us, and the last couple of years has brought a new term for it "Pigging Out." Our roving photographer caught several of our finest students at the trough.

FALL FESTIVAL ... "Just one more quarter."

Fire truck's siren blarin', children with painted faces and gigantic balloons, Coach Sport calling the winning Bingo number, hot dogs, Pepsi, cake walk, sweet shop, cartoons, fish pond, and horror house—all the ingredients of the Fall Festival and fun, fun, fun! Kids of all ages stood in line and eagerly awaited their turns to spend money while parents grumbled and gave "just one more quarter!"

People of all ages seemed to have enjoyed the Fire Truck ride.

Coach Doug Brown holds the winning Bingo card and shows the latest style in men's apparel.

Andy Duke tosses for another win.

Tabitha Thomas displays her cake after winning in the cake-walk.

Mrs. Janet Penn poses for the camera while using her artistic abilities to paint the face of Nelson May.

HO! HO! HO!

Christmas, with its eager children's faces and good will toward men, brought day-long activities downtown the first Saturday of December, including a parade and prizes to lucky winners; National Honor Society's assembly program for Multiple Sclerosis, and the fifth grade's P.T.A. program. Classroom doors were gaily decorated, students pretended to study for mid-term exams, and everyone EAGERLY awaited that last bell marking two glorious weeks of freedom!

Julie Davis sings "Oh, Christmas Tree" to entertain the PTA.

The elementary school paraded their float down main street.

Brian Goodwin, as Rudolph, seems to show his surprise at being named Santa's lead reindeer.

MAGAZINE SALES

Scotty Wallace and Sandra Johnson look exhausted after counting magazine money.

DaJuna Harris and Lynn Patterson review the figures of the total sales.

Robby Morrow placed as the second highest salesperson.

Randy Claybrook shows us his sexy smile as he placed third in the magazine sales.

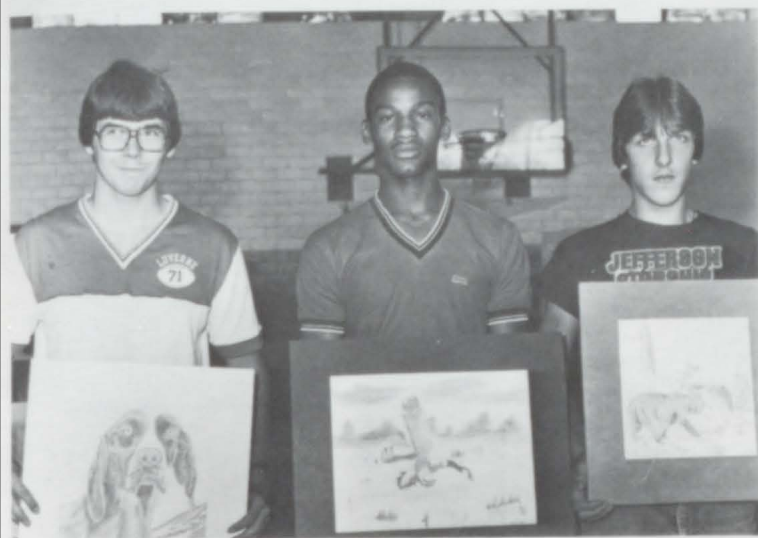

Drawings—1st place, Alan Coggins; 2nd place, Lamar Hill; 3rd place, Scott Bayman.

ART SHOW

The annual Art Exhibit was held in the school gymnasium. Many beautiful paintings, drawings, and pastels were displayed. Paula Lambert received a gold plaque and a ribbon, as she was chosen the Grand Prize Winner.

Oil paintings—1st place, Scotty Wallace; 2nd place, Leon Hall; 3rd place, Billy Pippin.

ONE OF A KIND!

Head Coach Glenn Daniel reminisces about the football season.

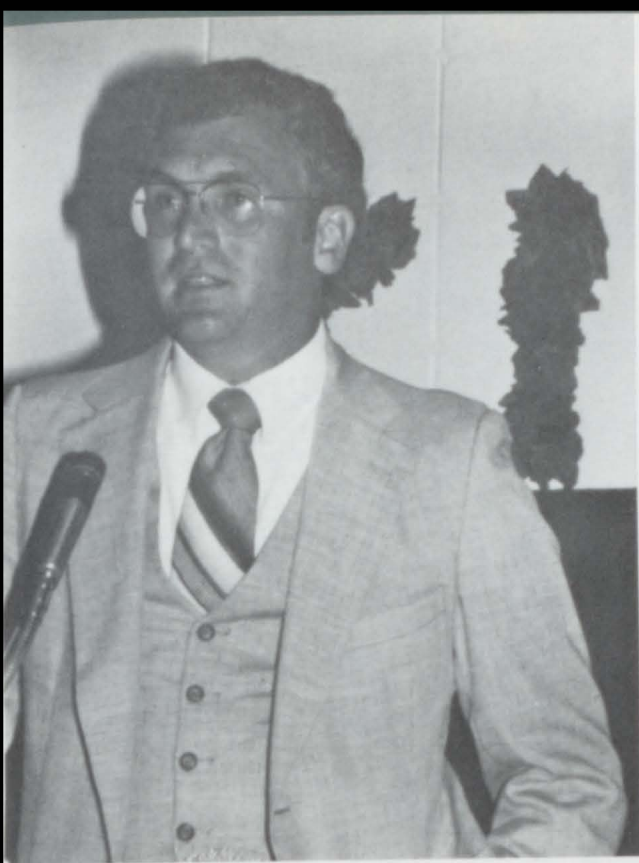

Coach Brown awards the senior football players with his personal award.

The theme, "One of a Kind" fit the athletic banquet well. This year was one of a kind. This year was a unique one in more ways than one: first time in the playoffs, record breaking seasons, and high-rating cheerleaders.

Honored guest, John Montague, speaks about his days as a major league pitcher.

Coach Owens gives a run-down of the basketball season.

President of the Quarterback Club, Jim Perdue, gives the history of the Billy Beasley scholastic award.

Principal, Charles Sport, presents Scott Sport the scholastic trophy.

Coach Mary Mitchell recognizes the senior girls' basketball players who helped this year's team amass the best record ever.

"Miss" Dickey honors the senior cheerleaders, Cathy Carr and Renee Mobley, with an original poem about all their escapades together.

Coach Glenn Daniel congratulates Randy Bagents on being selected by his teammates as the recipient of the Billy Beasley Good Sportsmanship trophy.

JR. SR. . . . "An Evening In Paris"

These Juniors really seemed to enjoy the Banquet after all the hard work.

The "Can Can" girls really put on a show.

Edward Green and Darlene McGhee seen STROLLING IN PARIS.

The Faculty seemed to have enjoyed the food as well as the cuts.

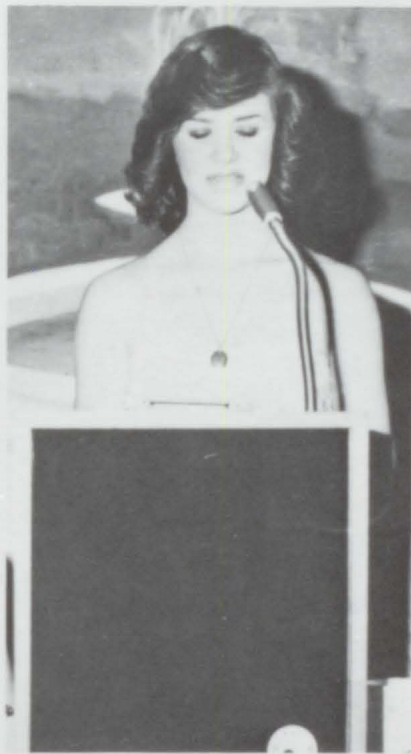

Angie Killough does her interpretation of being a "little girl".

Gary Garner and Tony Hodge pose as Pro's!

Dawn King and Robbie Morrow got the Seniors in the mood by singing "I Love Paris."

Marlene Stephens enjoys cutting the Seniors.

Nancy Sikes dressed in her Paris costume, wishes she had a piece of that pie!

A record numbers of Juniors participate in the leadout.

Tereasa Smith looks excited at her Senior Prom.

Hope Jordan whispers sweet nothings in Glen McLeod's ear.

Kenny Washington and Essie Reddock really "get down" at the dance.

The Seniors wait eagerly for the dance to begin.

Danny Duncan really puts his heart into decorating.

Rita McLeod gives someone her evil look.

The camera catches Tony Hodge by surprise.

BAND BANQUET ... "SPRINGTIME MAGIC"

Debra Tomberlin, Band President, presided over the banquet.

TROPHIES, waiting for a new winner!

Dr. David Eisler had an interesting speech!

The PANORAMA spirit began in late June when editors Cathy Carr and Renee Mobley, photographer Randy Claybrook, and advisor Mrs. Watson traveled to the University of South Alabama in Mobile for a three-day yearbook workshop. We came back with lots of good ideas and precious little sleep. Ours was going to be the best yearbook ever.

We put in many long, hard hours writing body copy and learning to use the photo fit, but we also had good times—hamburger parties in the summer and a gift-exchanging party at Christmas.

This book has a new look. It was done for you; we sincerely hope you like it. Please read the copy; a lot of time went into writing each paragraph. Also notice the addition of the color pages in the Sports section as well as the additional subjects in the Student Life section. For the first time in a number of years we have produced a yearbook rather than a photo album.

Though we had problems "Miss" Sue pulled us through with her many brainstormers.

CO-EDITORS—Renee Mobley and Cathy Carr often got in high-water over deadline pages.

MANAGING EDITORS—Debra Tomberlin and Teleasa Mcleod—would climb to any height to assist in any way they could.

SAFE Blood Drive

The Beta Mu Chapter of S.A.F.E. had an exceptional year. Although the blood drive had to be postponed twice, the record student participation raised the number of pints donated to a decent 66 pints.

The District S.A.F.E. meeting in Troy was a great success for the Beta Mu Chapter. Scott Sport won the honor of Mr. S.A.F.E., and Lisa Rolling placed second in the talent show. In the nomination and election of officers, Luverne also made a proud showing. Randy Claybrook won the office of President and Lynn Patterson was elected Secretary.

The officers and advisor, Mrs. Lalar Tomberlin, attended the State Convention held in Montgomery each year. At this meeting, Scott Sport was chosen Mr. S.A.F.E. for the State and was awarded a plaque and a fifty-dollar savings bond.

SING, SING A SONG

Singing a song is the choir's speciality. The L.H.S. Choir and Ensemble is under the direction of Mr. Mike Davis. Grades 8-12 make up the choral group. Tryouts for the Ensemble are held every year.

The Choir and Ensemble participate in more events than the annual Christmas Concert and Spring Concert. They sing at Homecoming, S.A.F.E. meetings, Beauty Pageant, and P.T.A. meetings. They competed at the Peanut Festival against other schools and received high ratings.

WE'VE GOT SPIRIT, YES WE DO!

When it comes to spirit, the L.H.S. Pep Squad has it. The size is one of the largest in years. Each member is required to buy a Pep Squad uniform. They have a part of the half-time program at Homecoming. They assist the cheerleaders by yelling at ballgames, decorating for dances, and helping make booster badges.

FOOTBALL

The Tigers captured their first play-off berth in the school's history with their 8-2 regular season record. This put the Tigers in an unprecedented position, and the entire town was keyed up for their first post-season game against Cottonwood. The result was a thrilling come-from-behind victory that took us into overtime.

The underdog Tigers came home for their quarter-final tilt against Southern Choctaw. The outcome of the game was no less exciting than their previous victory over Cottonwood with the win coming in the final few seconds. The Tigers were just two games away from being state champions and entered the semi-finals against Dadeville.

Spirits were high, and the Tigers were keyed up for the game, but Lady Luck was not in favor of the Tigers, who ended their Cinderella season with a heart-rendering 8-6 loss to eventual state champions, Dadeville. But the cause was not lost, for the Tigers had achieved the one thing they had sought so vigorously—RESPECT.

TAKING IT TO THE HOOP

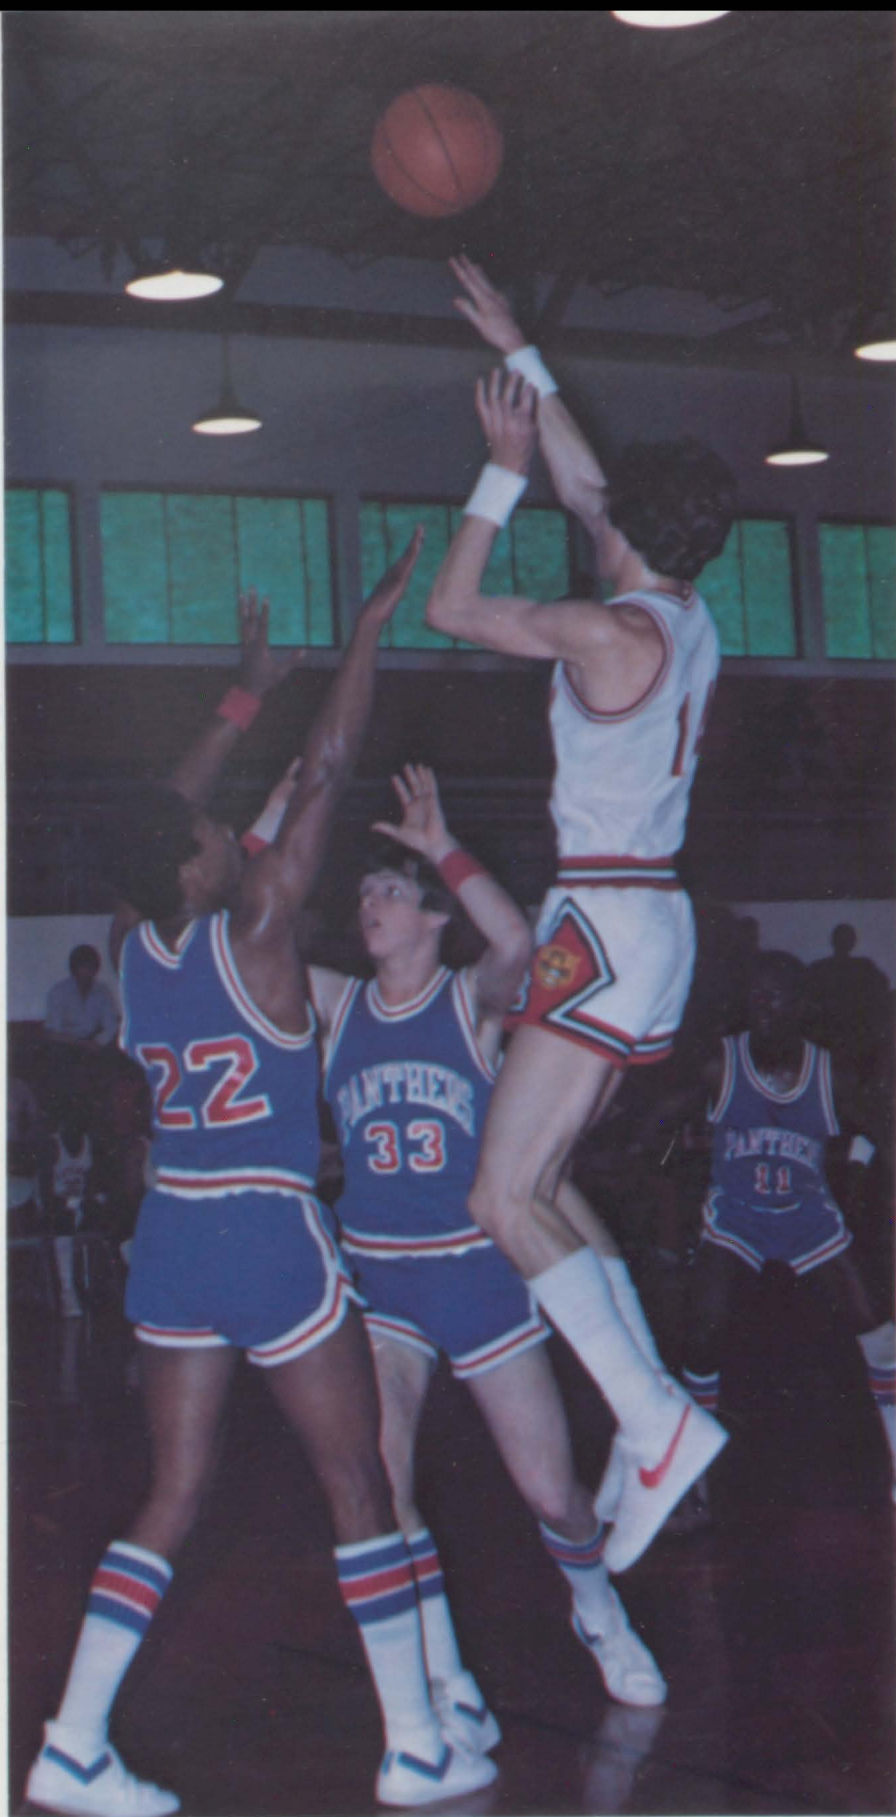

Lamar Hill catches a breather as he looks for someone to pass to.

Glenn Murry shows the correct way to throw a bounce-pass.

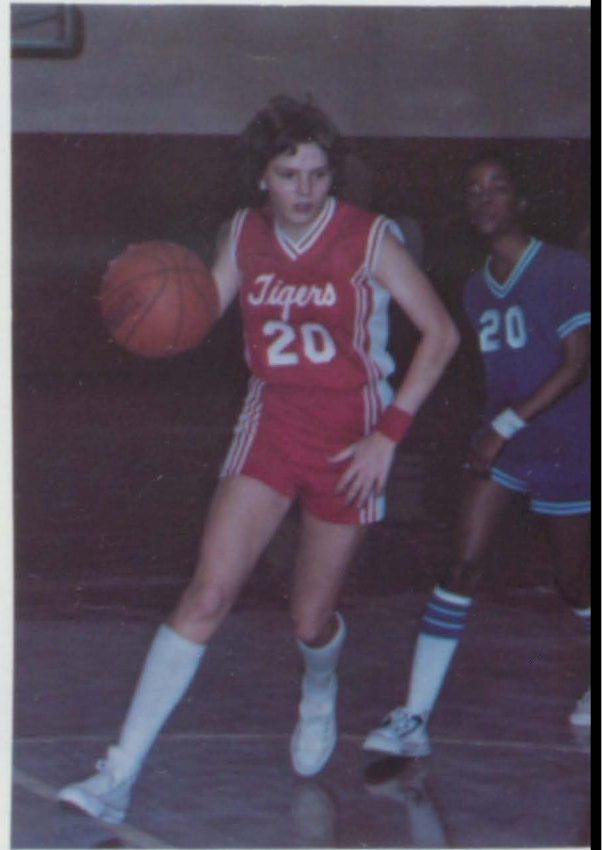

Mrs. Mitchell's girl's basketball team paid more attention to the camera than to the game.

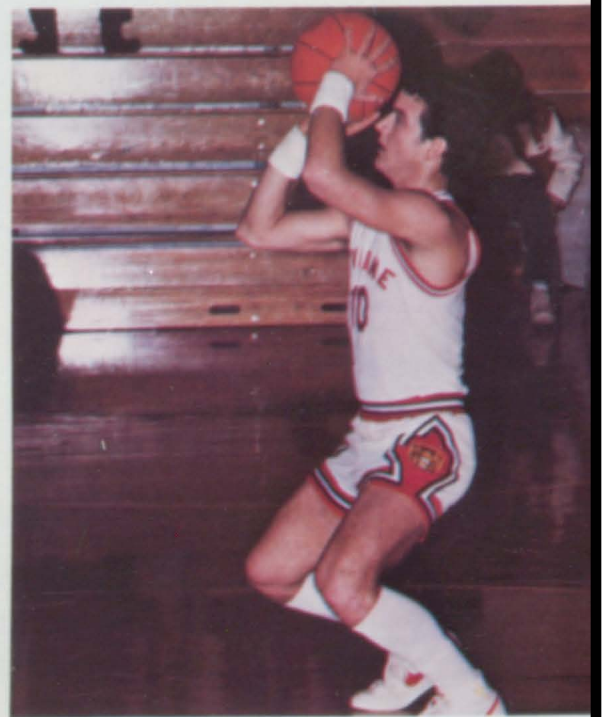

Glenn Maloy shoots a jump shot over two Georgiana defenders.

Kim Snell shows her dribbling skills against Highland Home.

Dickie Sims gets into the proper stance to shoot a free throw.

Due to the lengthy football season, the varsity basketball team had a shorter time to prepare for the upcoming season. As a result of this late start, we could only muster a 7-11 season record. Although we opened the season with four straight wins, the ball started bouncing in a different direction.

The Girls' team, on the other hand, had its best season ever. They finished the season with a boastful 11-6 record, losing to only three teams. They accomplished this unequalled season under the leadership and direction of their second-year coach, Mrs. Mary Mitchell.

This is one of the few times these boys got on the court.

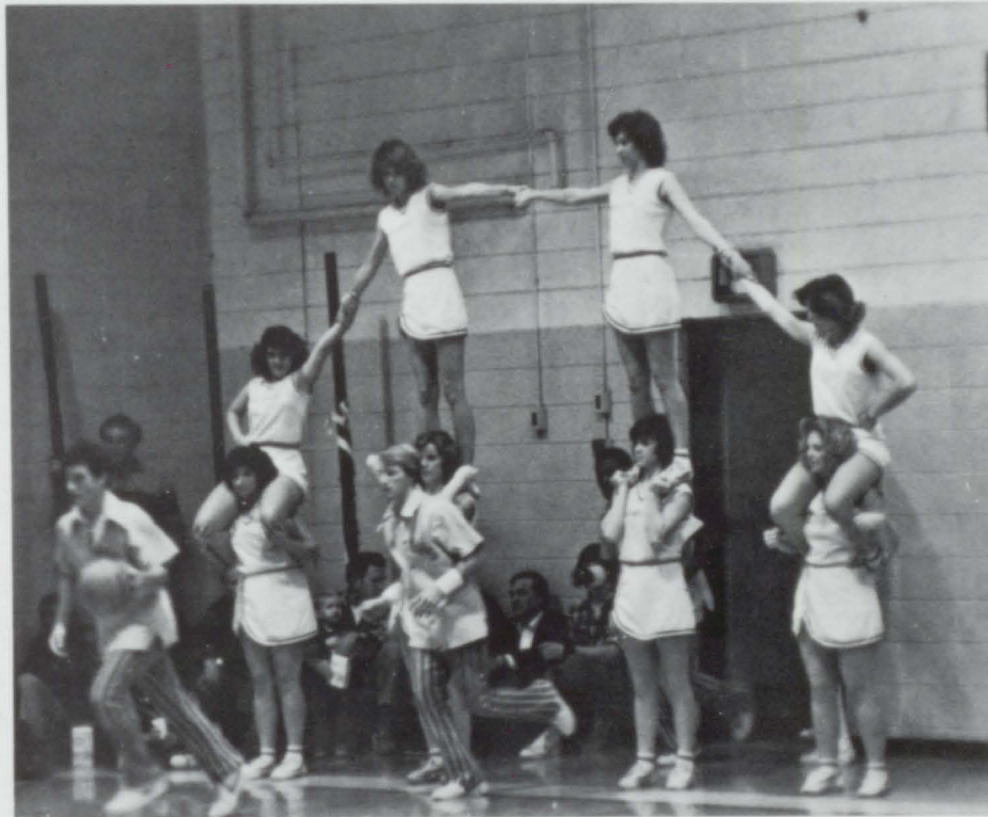

Arbie Dixon scores two on a lay-up against Brantley.

Sambo slaps another one out of bounds against Opp.

Glenn Murry shoots his favorite jump-shot in warm-ups.

Here Come The Tigers!

Charles Lowery scores two in the Elba B-Team game.

All Dressed Up With No Where To Go

Even though this year's Tiger Baseball team was not as successful as they would have liked to have been, they had great player participation and potential. These players are Wren Ballard, Jeffrey Beck, Earnest Green, Eddie Jackson, Gary Garner, "Ba Ba" Daniels, "Peanut" Lamar Hill, Joey Johnson, Floyd Wright, Travis Stringer, Tony Hodge, Edward Green, Donald Hall, Roderic Clayton, Mark Cooper, Daryl Smith, Eric Brown, Phillip Youngblood, and Demetrues Parks, manager, Ken Thomas, Glenn Maloy, and Greg Corley.

Coach Glenn Daniel hits a few balls during practice while Floyd Wright catches.

Way to hustle Greg, but that was a foul ball.

SENIOR PLAYERS: Ken Thomas, Greg Corley, Glenn Maloy, Wren Ballard, and Jeffrey Beck.

Cheerleaders

The Varsity Cheerleaders had the spirit to carry the Tigers to many victories and to arouse the fans. They were among the best ever as evidenced by their All-State honor at clinic as well as the rip-roaring enthusiasm exhibited by the students and faculty. Being a cheerleader took dedication and hard work, but as any of them will declare, it was well worth the effort.

The cheerleaders show us how to jam at a Friday pep rally.

Angel Johnson shows tremendous strength by lifting Rita McLeod in a double stunt.

Pam Walton gives a big "hey" for the mighty Tigers.

Cathy Carr shows a puzzled look at a Thursday night pep rally.

A look into the future.

ELEMEN

Dedication

The PANORAMA staff would like to dedicate this elementary section of the yearbook in memory of Anthony Boyd, a first grader whose life was tragically ended in an automobile accident during A.E.A. holidays.

Elementary In Action

KINDERGARTEN GRADUATION

This group flip-flop their ears and wig-wag their tails to the song "Wags."

With nerves on edge, sometimes a little help from the teachers in the wings is necessary.

Mac Watson seems to be a bit disgruntled as he waits for the next circus act to begin.

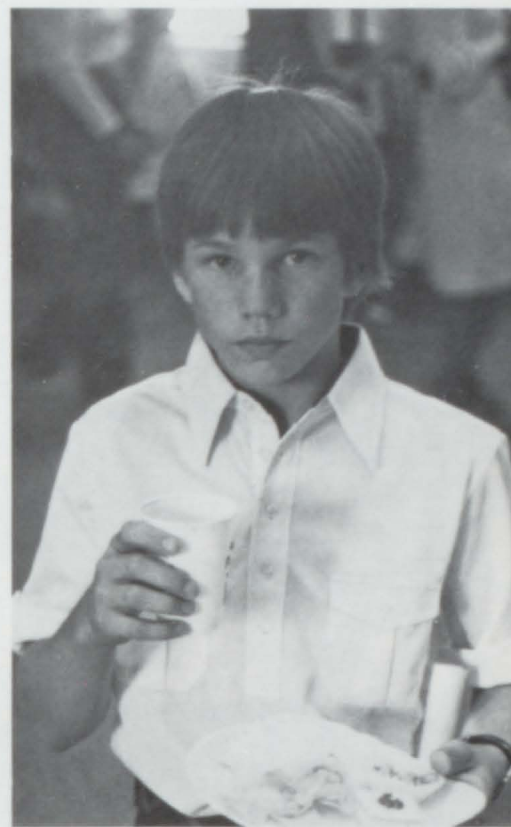

This couple seem to forget the audience is out front as they ponder their next lines.

SIXTH GRADE GRADUATION

Hope Welch receives her diploma from Mr. Lavon Davis, elementary principal, while Mr. Ben Jones assists.

Scott Brown, sixth grade graduate, prepares to enjoy the party fare prepared by mothers of the graduates.

Sonya Riley, Felicia McLeod, and Katrina Sexton smile for the photographer as they show off their new diplomas.

Edwin Brown seems rather pleased with himself for having achieved this academic milestone.

Tammy Worley and Tracey Jordan take their last march as elementary students as they leave the auditorium following graduation.

Senior cheerleaders, Renee Mobley and Cathy Carr stick together at their last ballgame.

A WINNING CLASS

The Seniors of 1982 have lived through it all. We've seen and experienced success and failure. We know what it means to win and to lose and how to accept it.

But when the final curtains have fallen, we'll always wind up on top! When our team was losing we cried, and when our team was winning we cheered. We had more reason to cheer, than to cry, for ours was a winning year. A winning year in football, academics, girls' basketball, spirit, partying, and unity. Although at times our class had it's own little groups, when it boiled down to it we stuck together because we're a winning Class!

We all know that Wayne Salter has thirty-two teeth.

Sharon Morrell's curiosity seems to go far beyond our times.

Renee Mobley really gets into the spirit of things.

It seems that Tony Johnson is trying a new jig-balancing himself on air.

Some people won't make it in the Beauty Pageant even if they have enough practice.

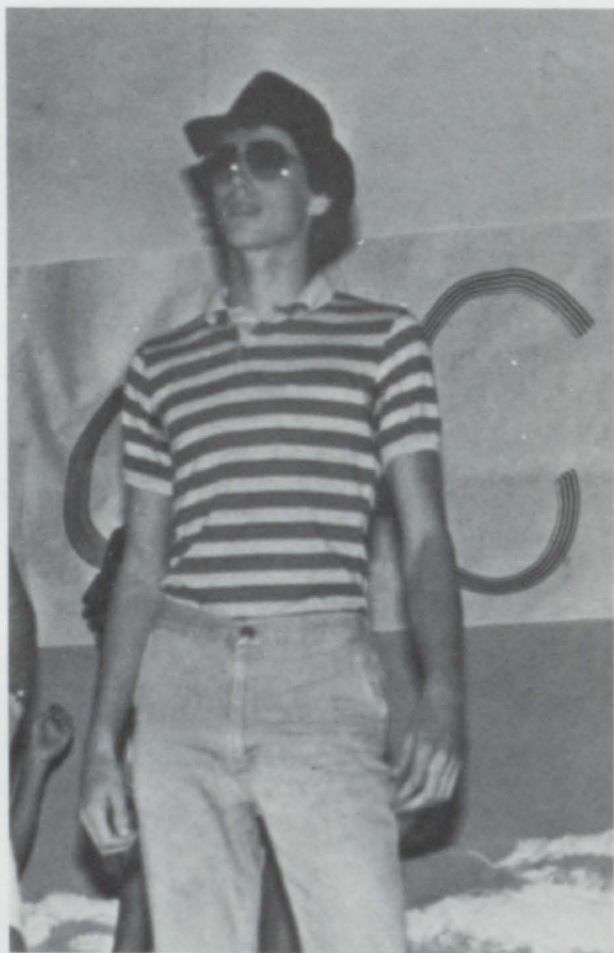

WHEN WE'RE GONE, YOU'LL KNOW WE'VE BEEN THROUGH

Sherry Taylor and Hope Jordan show their senior spirit at a pep rally.

Tony Walker seems to enjoy his debut as a football player.

"Super Cool", Glenn Maloy, struts his stuff as the boy from New York City.

These Seniors express the closeness of their class.

'CAUSE WE'RE THE CLASS OF '82!

Keith Hudson, the quiet member of our class, takes his daily stroll through the lunchroom.

THE BEST OF TIMES

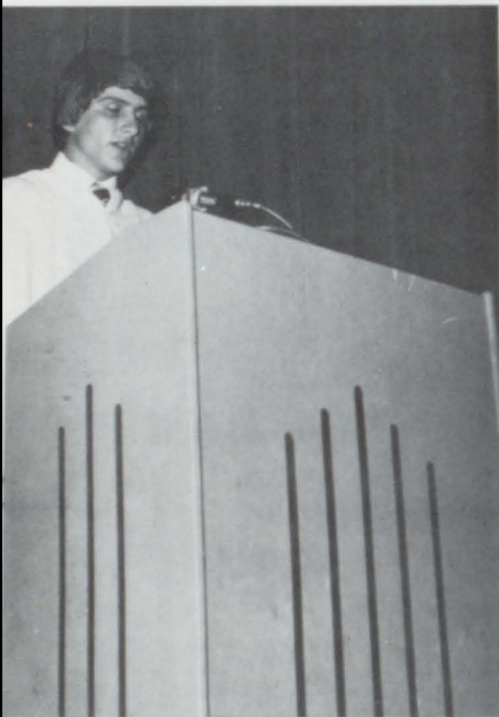

Scott Sport, class president, gives a warm welcome for class day.

Eulene Best, class historian, recalls the past twelve years.

Shirley McMillian, class historian, reminisces.

Rusty Taylor takes a look into the future.

Class poet, Paula Lambert, expresses the closeness of our class.

Ken Thomas, class lawyer, probates the last will and testament of the senior class.

Class soloists, Linda Johnson and Becky Bray, remind us of our class song "Ebony and Ivory."

Class dancers, Nanetter Whatley and Michael Ivey, move to the beat.

Senior class members portray the adventures of Miss Mitchell's class.

Giftorian, Jessis Willis, gets David Noble into deep trouble with an unmarked bottle.

James Baker, giftorian, presents Wren Ballard with a gift to remind him of his senior year.

Tony Johnson, class comedian, reveals the "real" Coach Sport.

Glenn Murry narrates the skit, "The Educated Peanut Goes Back to School."

Class gymnists, Teleasa Mcleod and Cathy Carr, slow the mood down with "Open Arms."

THE LAST CHOW DOWN!

Tony Johnson and "Killer" Ken seem to be mad at each other.

Dickie must see something in "Miss" Ivey that we haven't.

Leon must see a bug in his plate.

On your mark . . . get set . . . EAT!!

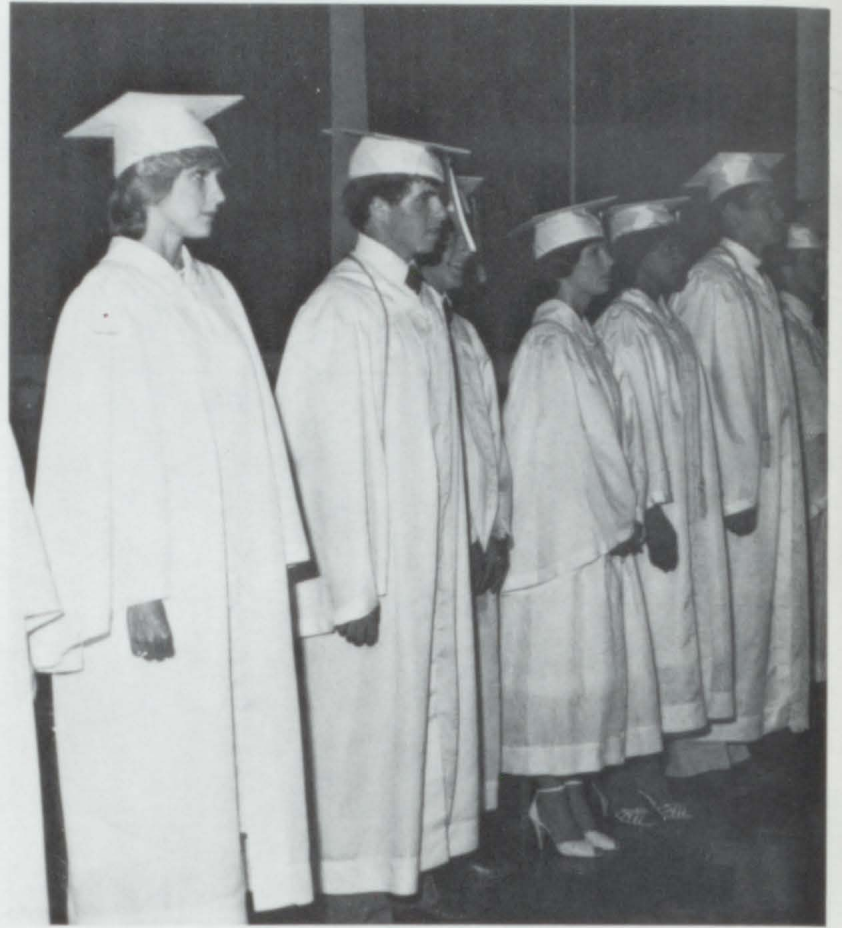

The Seniors' luncheon was a great success.

1982 GRADUATION

SENIOR SUP

Good Citizenship Boy and Girl

Wayne Salter and Renee Mobley were nominated by their class and voted on by the high school faculty. During class day elections, the senior class nominated three boys and three girls as their choices for Good Citizenship Boy and Girl. From these three, the faculty selected Wayne and Renee.

Girl's State and Boy's State

Scott Sport and Cathy Carr were selected by a vote of all high school faculty members as representatives to Boy's and Girl's State. While attending Boy's State at the University of Alabama, Scott was elected as a legislator and served during a mock legislative session in Montgomery at the state capitol. While attending Girl's State at Huntingdon College in Montgomery, Cathy ran for the office of Attorney General and served as state veterinarian.

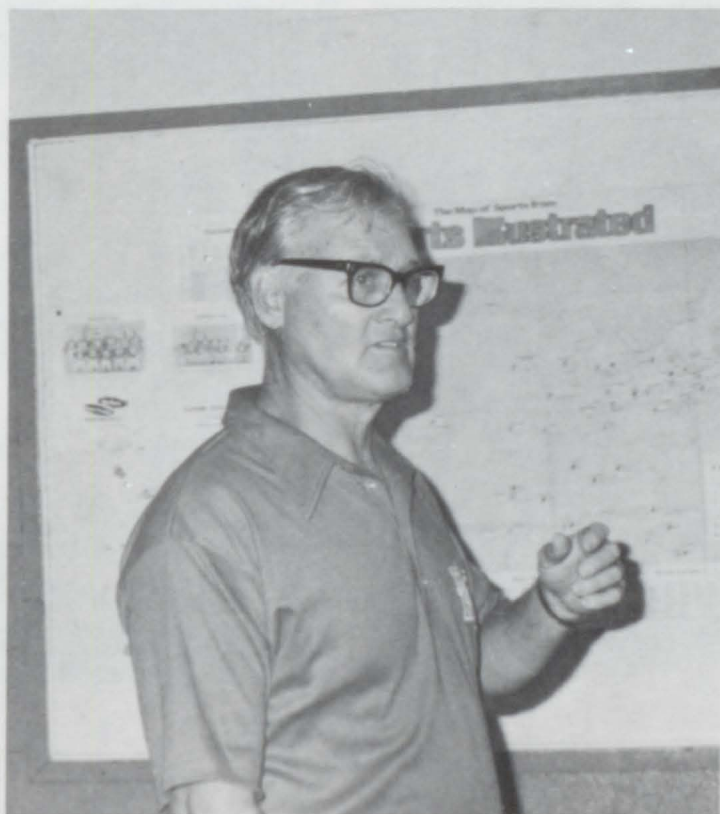

RELATIVES

Senior Class officers: Scott Sport—President, Randy Bagents—Vice-President, Teleasa McLeod—Secretary, and Shirley McMillian—Treasurer.

Senior sponsors: Mary Mitchell and Glenn Daniel.

WE'RE ONE OF A KIND

A large, stylized illustration of a scroll is the central focus. The scroll is unrolled from the top left, with its end curling at the bottom right. To the left of the scroll's end is a dark, textured inkwell with a lid. A quill pen is positioned vertically, its tip resting in the inkwell and its shaft extending upwards. The scroll itself is filled with text, organized into two columns. The title "STARTING OVER" is centered at the top of the scroll. The text consists of various phrases and short paragraphs, some of which are grouped together. The overall style is simple and graphic, using black ink on a white background.

"STARTING OVER"

Jumping rope
Playing dodge ball
Racing to the water fountain
Running in the hall.

Writing notes
Telling dirty jokes
Getting in trouble
Hiding it from our folks.

Snatching pencils
Stealing somebody's pen
Borrowing paper
Failing a test again.

Making friends
Keeping the old
Selling something
That wasn't yours to be sold.
Chewing gum
And drinking a drink
Shooting our mouth off
Before we would think.

Growing up
Always in a hurry
Beginning to start caring
And learning about worry.

Feeling pain
Crying and not knowing why
Falling in love
Without even having to try.

Having fun
Going to the prom
Laughing and dancing
To our favorite song.

Saying thanks
To a special friend
For helping and understanding
Over and over again.

Getting harder
To crack open a book
To stay awake in class
To make up tests we never took.

Taking time
To now stop and see
That we don't want to be grown
Just always free.

Simply realizing
That the easy times are gone
And we've only got ourselves
To build a future and a home.

Starting over
A whole new life lies ahead
A chapter of the book
That we haven't yet read.

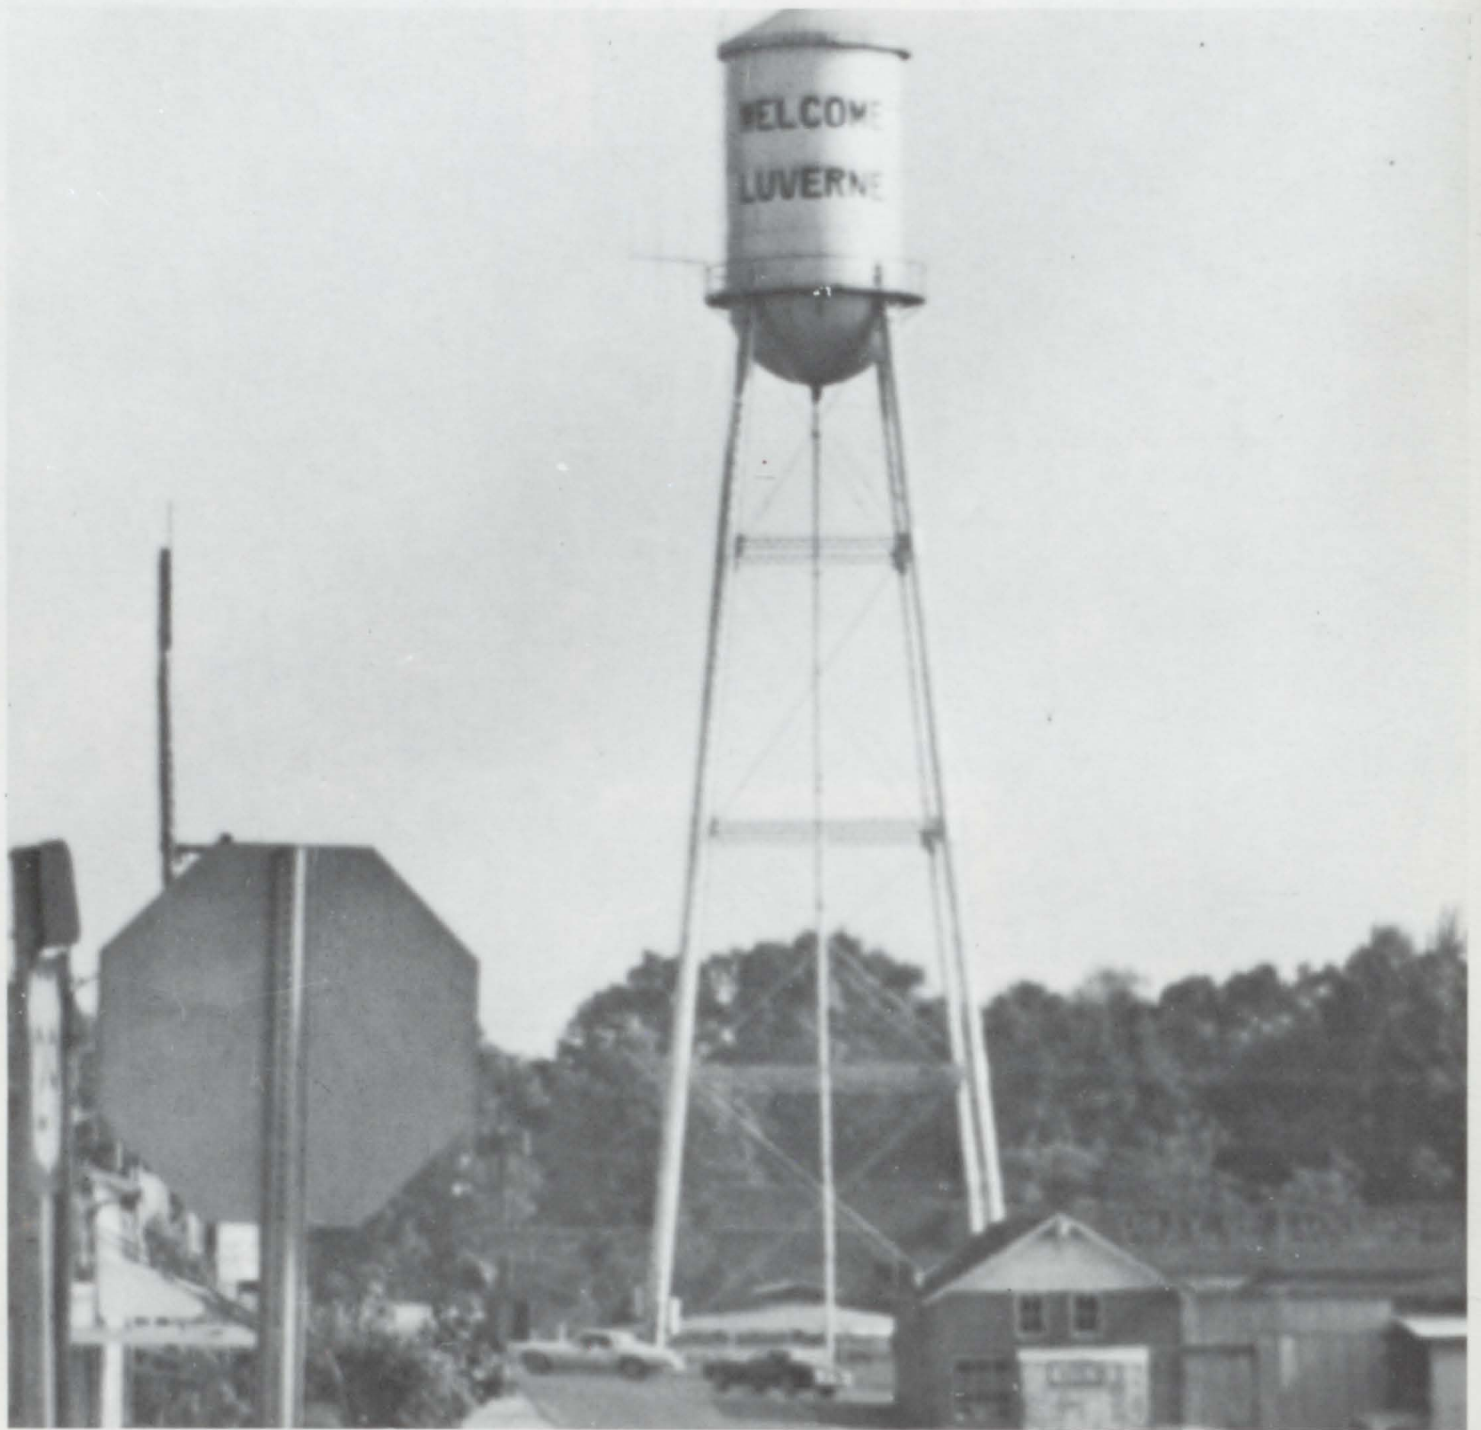

Leaving behind
Old habits and friends
Searching for a new way
To start over again . . .
